Explanations:

1. Option A - resistance and overpower do not fit into the context. As if other countries will resist then how come Iran and India will overpower Afghanistan.

   Option B - Both the words suit the context absolutely and are grammatically also correct.

   Hence option B is correct.

2. Option A - Both the words suit the context absolutely and are grammatically also correct.

   Hence option A is correct.

3. Option A – ‘with’ is not going well with FIR, because an FIR is registerd against or registered by someone, but not registered with.

   Option B – Both the words are correct as FIR is registered against the said personalities due to their controversial remarks.

   Hence option B is correct.

4. Option A – ‘Discouraging’ terrorism and then “destabilization” of neighboring countries are contrary to each other.

   Option B – If terrorism is ‘demoted’ by Pakistan then there is no point for US to “attack” Pakistan because Pakistan was on back-foot due to its terrorism friendly image.

   Option C – ‘Acclaimed’ means to praise, which is contradictory to the “notice” being issued by Trump.

   Option D – Both the words fit the blank absolutely well, as “encouragement” of terrorism by Pakistan leads to destabilizing environment in neighboring countries, for which Trump “warned” Pakistan.

   Hence option D is correct.
5. Option A - ‘risen’ and ‘meet’ are contradictory with respect to the context. As if reserves have risen it would have no issues in giving payment of imports.

Option B – ‘Cutting’ reserves won’t ensure the reserve fund for payment of imports, thus both the words are absurd.

Option C – ‘Dwindling’ of reserves has led the situation that it has reached to such a low level that Pakistan could pay for two months of import only.

Thus both the words fit the blank contextually and grammatically correctly.

Hence option C is correct.

6. Option B- mitigating which means 'making something less severe' is out of the context, thus it makes option B incorrect.

Option C- transforming is a wrong word here to be used.

Option A and Option D both make correct choices for the blanks.

Hence option E is correct.

7. 'Mood of jobs' does not sound meaningful, thus option A is not correct.

'Maximum' is grammatically incorrect if placed in the second blank, thus option B is also incorrect.

Both the words of option C fit the blanks perfectly.

Hence option C is correct.

8. Option A is incorrect as abridging the income gap cannot be a flaw for an economy, thus flaw does not suit the second blank.

Option B is incorrect as mere addressing the inequality can’t be the biggest quality of an economy, thus both the words are not complimenting each other.

Option C is incorrect as perceiving does not suit the context.

Option D is correct as by narrowing the income parity, one can level the things, thus both the words are complimentary to each other and make a meaningful and grammatically correct sentence.

Hence option D is correct.
9. Option A is wrong as use of vowel ‘an’ before the first blank refers to a word starting with vowel to be used here.

Option C is also incorrect as intentional point does not make any sense to the sentence.

Option D is wrong as 'diffidence' which means 'modesty or shyness resulting from a lack of self-confidence' is out of the context.

Option B is correct as 'inflection point' means a turning point or a game changer, which absolutely matches the context.

Hence option B is correct.

10. Option D is incorrect as 'delay' is a negative word here whereas 'applaud' which means 'to praise someone' is a positive one. So, nobody can be praised for making delay in something.

Option B is incorrect as 'field' can’t be processed.

Option C is also wrong as 'processing of sugarcane farmers' does not make any sense.

Option A is absolutely correct as 'delay in processing of sugarcane arrears' makes sense and opposition will obviously attack the present government for such an act.

Hence option A is correct.
