Correct Answers:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
C	A	B	C	D	C	C	E	B	A

Explanations:

1.

Fragment A begins with 'and' and cannot be the starting fragment. Similarly, fragment C starts with itself and does not make sense in any way as the beginning statement. Out of fragments D and B, only D fits in as it provides an appropriate introduction for the statement.

Connectors:

D and B: subvert here means to avoid something. The only fragment that fits in is B as it explains what the employees avoid/sabotage.

D: A bank fraud is a situation in which employees subvert

B: rules and regulations at the expense of the bank

B and A: A elaborates on how fragment B is different from another situation-

B: rules and regulations at the expense of the bank

A: and is different from a situation where the bank

A and C: C talks about how the first situation is different from the second.

A: and is different from a situation where the bank

C: itself violates rules and regulations in order to benefit shareholders

Hence, option C is correct.

2.

Fragment D as the first fragment can be directly eliminated as it begins with rather necessitating the presence of another fragment before it. Similarly, fragments A and C do not make the statement meaningful if placed at the beginning. Only fragment B fits in well here.

Connectors:

B and A: fragment A elaborates on what the government is sincere about-

B: A government that is sincere in its

A: desire to fight corruption and

A and C: C adds to the government's desires -

A: desire to fight corruption and

C: injustice must protect whistleblowers

C and D: Both talk about what the government ought to be doing-

C: injustice must protect whistleblowers

D: rather than prosecute them

Hence, option A is correct.

3.

Starting fragment:

Fragment C can be eliminated as it starts with of indicating a previous fragment.

Fragment B contains the words- 'for all and are also'. This indicates the point being mentioned here is a follow up of a previous point and thus, this cannot be the beginning fragment.

Out of A and D, A is a better fit.

Connectors:

A and B: B elaborates on the 'mockery'-

A: Encounter killings make a mockery of

B: law and justice for all and are also a gross

B and D: D continues talking about the pitfalls of encounter killings-

B: law and justice for all and are also a gross

D: violation of an individual's rights, irrespective

D and C: C is the final fragment which provides the conclusion-

D: violation of an individual's rights, irrespective

C: of whether that person has committed a crime or not

Hence, option B is correct.

4.

Starting fragment:

All of the fragments except for fragment C are clearly continuation of previous fragments and thus cannot be the first fragment. Only fragment C fits in well here.

D and B form a mandatory pair as both talk about what the government did.

So, by now we have C as the first statement and D-B as the mandatory pair. Only A is left and it fits in after C-

Connectors:

C and A:

C: Since the early 1990s, the Indian government

A: under its Structural Adjustment Programmes policy

A and D:

A: under its Structural Adjustment Programmes policy

D: started shrinking its financial responsibility

D and B: -

D: started shrinking its financial responsibility

B: towards social sectors like health and education

Hence, option C is correct.

5.

Starting fragment:

Fragments C and D can be easily eliminated as both are clearly a continuation of previous fragments. Fragment A, if taken as the first fragment, does not form a meaningful statement. Only B can be the first fragment.

Connectors:

B and C: C states that the crisis mentioned in B should serve as a warning to India-

B: The Cape Town crisis should be a

C: wake-up call to India about

C and A: A talks about the subject of the warning.

C: wake-up call to India about

A: the existing and future water emergency

A and D: D states the conclusion-

A: the existing and future water emergency

SmartKeeda
The Question Bank

D: that many parts of the country do and will face

Hence, option D is correct.

6.

Starting fragment:

Fragments A, D and B can be easily eliminated as all are clearly a continuation of previous fragments. Only C can be the first fragment.

Connectors:

C and A: A elaborates on what India cannot emerge as-

C: India cannot emerge

A: as a global power unless

C and A: D talks about why India cannot emerge as a global power-

A: as a global power unless

D: it controls developments that

A and D: B further states the reason for the same-

D: it controls developments that

B: threaten security in its own backyard

Hence, option C is correct.

7.

Starting fragment:

Fragment A starts with its indicating the presence of a prior fragment. Fragment D starts with have and can easily be eliminated. Fragment C also does not make a meaningful statement if taken as the first fragment. Only B can be the first fragment.

Connectors:

B and A: A states what the government is refusing to do-

B: Given the government's obduracy in refusing to debate

A: its labour policies in Parliament, trade unions

A and D: - D elaborates on how trade unions are left with one option only-

A: its labour policies in Parliament, trade unions

D: have no option but to take their cause to

D and C: C talks about what option the trade unions are left with-

D: have no option but to take their cause to

C: the people and reiterate the importance of collective bargaining

Hence, option C is correct.

8.

All the fragments are arranged correctly and need no correction.

Hence, option E is correct.

9.

Starting fragment:

Fragments C and B can be easily eliminated as they start with would and and respectively and cannot serve as the first fragment. Fragment A, has the words – ‘capital and be’ which indicates the presence of another point before it and hence, cannot serve as the first fragment. Only D fits in as the first fragment.

Connectors:

D and C: C talks about how deviation would impact India-

D: Any significant deviation from deficit targets

C: would adversely affect investor sentiment

A and D: - D elaborates further on the adverse impact of a deficit-

C: would adversely affect investor sentiment

B: and trigger an outflow of

B and A: A provides the conclusion-

B: and trigger an outflow of

A: capital and ultimately damage the economy

Hence, option B is correct.

10.

Starting fragment:

Only C fits in as the first fragment. Fragments A and B start with 'for' and cannot be the first statement. Fragment D does not make a meaningful statement if put in the first place.

Connectors:

C and A: Conceal a reality in C fits with for some time in A

C: Hyperbole can help conceal a reality

A: for some time but is no substitute

A and B: B elaborates on how exaggeration is no substitute for real measures-

A: for some time but is no substitute

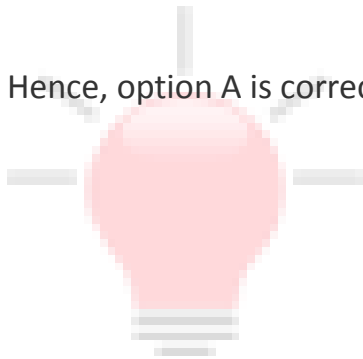

B: for real measures that make

B and D: D provides the conclusion-

B: for real measures that make

D: a difference to the common voter

Hence, option A is correct.
