Correct Answers:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
B	C	E	A	D	C	A	E	D	E

Explanations:

1.

Starting Fragment:

There are two possibilities here- start with fragment A or with D. When starting with A, the sequence goes like this- A-B-D-C. However, the comma after reserves in C indicates the statement is not over and thus C cannot be the last statement. Thus, this can be ruled out. The other possibility with D is the only option left then.

Connectors:

C and A:

C: of India shall secure social,

A: states that the democratic Republic

A and B:

A: states that the democratic Republic

B: economic and political justice

B and C: B states the conclusion-

B: economic and political justice

D: free speech and promoting the values of democracy

Hence, option B is correct.

Starting Fragment:

Fragments A, B and D can be easily eliminated as all are clearly a continuation of previous fragments. Only C can be the first fragment.

C and A:

C: European migrants, many of

A: whom arrived over the past couple

A and D:

A: whom arrived over the past couple

D: of decades, are more likely to pay

B and D: B states the conclusion-

B: taxes than to receive benefits

D: of decades, are more likely to pay

Hence, option C is correct.

3.

The fragments are already arranged meaningfully and thus need no more rearrangement.

Hence, option E is correct.

Starting Fragment:

Here, we can eliminate fragments A and D because they both are a continuation of previous fragments. If we take fragment B first, it does not allow fragment C to follow. Thus, only C can be the first fragment.

A and B:

A: on the head of the household

B: with penalties for malnutrition

B and C:

B: with penalties for malnutrition

C: meanwhile, Uganda has sought to

D and C: C states the conclusion-

C: meanwhile, Uganda has sought to

D: confer a legal responsibility for food security

Hence, option A is correct.

5.

Starting Fragment:

Let us start by eliminating fragments one by one. We can easily eliminate fragments B and C as they are a continuation of previous fragments. Only C can be the first fragment because fragment A does not allow fragment C to fit in.

C and B:

C: technical investigation into an accident

B: agencies such as the Police and Public Works

B and A:

B: agencies such as the Police and Public Works

A: Departments are unable to conduct

C and D: C states the conclusion-

C: technical investigation into an accident

D: without expert help, executive

Hence, option D is correct.

6.

Starting Fragment:

Fragments B and D can be easily eliminated as both are clearly a continuation of previous fragments. Fragment A, if taken as the first fragment, does not allow fragment C to fit in. Only C can be the first fragment.

C and D:

C: India's goal is to have sustained

D: growth and to have a growth that

B and C:

B: boosts the living standards very

C: India's goal is to have sustained

A and B: A states the conclusion-

A: broadly across the population

B: boosts the living standards

Hence, option C is correct.

7.

Starting Fragment:

When we start eliminating fragments one by one, we notice that fragments B and C can easily be ruled out as both of them are a continuation of previous fragments. Now, we are left with fragment A and D. We can also rule out fragment D because when D is taken as the first fragment it doesn't allow fragment A to follow. Thus, A is the first fragment.

A and B:

A: Additionally, the Department

B: of Science & Technology will launch a

B and C:

B: of Science & Technology will launch a

C: establishment of centers of excellence

C and D: C states the conclusion-

C: establishment of centers of excellence

D: Mission on Cyber Physical Systems to support

Hence, option A is correct.

The fragments are already arranged meaningfully and thus need no more rearrangement.

Hence, option E is correct.

Starting Fragment:

We can use the elimination technique to solve this question. Fragments B and C can be easily eliminated as both are clearly a continuation of previous fragments.

Fragment A, if taken as the first fragment, does not allow fragment D to fit in.

Only D can be the first fragment.

Connectors:

D and B:

D: even now, Tamil Nadu

B: is ahead of many others

B and C:

B: is ahead of many others

C: in the overall renewable

A and C: A states the conclusion-

A: energy production

C: in the overall renewable

Hence, option D is correct.

10.

The fragments are already arranged meaningfully and thus need no more rearrangement.

Hence, option E is correct.
