The Question Bank

Correct answers:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
B	B	C	A	E	A	C	D	E	B

Explanations:

1.

Out of B and C as potential starters, C is a better option as B does not provide us with a way to form a coherent statement.

Connectors:

C and A: A provides information on what kind of a Ministerial Conference it was-

C: If the recently concluded 11th Ministerial Conference

A: of the World Trade Organization at Buenos Aires is anything

A and D: D is the only logical connecting statement here-

A: of the World Trade Organization at Buenos Aires is anything

D: to go by, then the United States seems bent

D and B: B elaborates on what the US seems bent on doing-

D: to go by, then the United States seems bent

B: upon wrecking the multilateral framework of the WTO

Correct statement: If the recently concluded 11th Ministerial Conference of the World Trade Organization (WTO) at Buenos Aires is anything to go by, then the United States seems bent upon wrecking the multilateral framework of the WTO.

The sequence is C-A-D-B.

Hence, option B is correct.

The only viable starter statement is B as the rest are in continuation and thus not suitable.

Connectors:

B and D: D elaborates on the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code mentioned in B-

B: The finance ministry claims that the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code

D: enacted in May 2016 to expedite the recovery of stressed

D and A: The word stressed in D matches only with assets in A-

D: enacted in May 2016 to expedite the recovery of stressed

A: assets and the proposed FRDI Bill, 2017 to pre-empt any banking or

A and C:

A: assets and the proposed FRDI Bill, 2017 to pre-empt any banking or

C: financial institution failures will help resolve the bad loans problem

Correct statement: The finance ministry claims that the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code enacted in May 2016 to expedite the recovery of stressed assets and the proposed Financial Resolution and Deposit Insurance (FRDI) Bill, 2017 to pre-empt any banking or financial institution failures will help resolve the bad loans problem.

The sequence is B-D-A-C.

Hence, option B is correct.

3.

The only viable starter statement is D as the rest are in continuation and thus not suitable.

Connectors:

D and A: 'A' specifies to whom the licenses were given-

D: a total of 122 licenses had been given

A: out to various telecom companies for

A and C: 'C' specifies the purpose for which the licenses were given out-

A: out to various telecom companies for

C: rolling out mobile internet and

C and B: 'B' continues where 'C' left off-

C: rolling out mobile internet and

B: voice services all across the country

Correct statement: A total of 122 licenses had been given out to various telecom companies for rolling out mobile internet and voice services all across the country.

The sequence is D-A-C-B.

Hence, option C is correct.

4.

Statements C and D both look ideal as the starting statement. However, if we take D as the starting sentence, C does not fit in anywhere else while if we take C as the starting statement, D still finds a place in the statement. Hence, Statement C is a better choice-

Connectors:

C and D: Use of and in C implies the author has multiple issues in mind. The only statement that fits in is D-

C: there is no dispute about the fact that corruption and

D: abuse of power remain an important aspect of India's economic

D and A: Out of A and B, B fits in meaningfully stating that both corruption and abuse of power are important elements in India's economic and political structure-

D: abuse of power remain an important aspect of India's economic

A: and political structure and that the fight against corruption

A and B:

A: and political structure and that the fight against corruption

B: is crucial to build a fairer and more just society

Correct statement: There is no dispute about the fact that corruption and abuse of power remain an important aspect of India's economic and political structure and that the fight against corruption is crucial to build a fairer and more just society.

The sequence is C-D-A-B.

Hence, option A is correct.

5.

The statement is perfectly logical in its original form and thus needs no re-arrangement.

Hence, option E is correct.

Statements B, C and D are choices for the starting statement. However, either B or D as the starting sentence does not enable us to make a meaningful and coherent statement. Only with C can we move forward. Hence, Statement C is the ideal choice-

Connectors:

C and D: D elaborates on the judges-

C: The press conference organized by the four senior-most judges of the Supreme Court presents, in many ways, a breaking point for the four

D and B:

D: Supreme Court presents, in many ways, a breaking point for the four

B: senior-most judges of unquestionable integrity, for the institution

B and A:

B: senior-most judges of unquestionable integrity, for the institution

A: of the judiciary, and for India's constitutional system of governance

Correct statement: The press conference organized by the four senior-most judges of the Supreme Court presents, in many ways, a breaking point for the four senior-most judges of unquestionable integrity, for the institution of the judiciary, and for India's constitutional system of governance.

The sequence is C-D-B-A.

Hence, option A is correct.

7.

The only viable opening statement is D here-

Connectors:

D and C: C states what the intention of the Doing Business report is-

D: though Doing Business report avowedly

C: wants to inform policy, and not prescribe

C and B: B further continues with what the intention of the Doing Business report is -

C: wants to inform policy, and not prescribe

B: it, nor outline a normative

B and A: A states what it actually achieves.

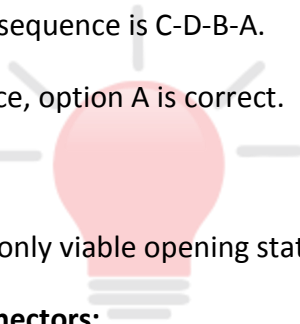

B: it, nor outline a normative

A: position, its rankings do precisely that

Correct statement: Though Doing Business report avowedly wants to inform policy, and not prescribe it, nor outline a normative position, its rankings do precisely that.

The sequence is D-C-B-A.

Hence, option C is correct.
