Common explanations:

The subject that is being discussed in the passage is the effect of social media over individuals and society.

Important hint to remember:

If we think about the opening sentence we will first try to eliminate odd sentences. Sentences A and E appear to be the guesses. As sentence E starts an introduction about social media, the paragraph has to start with sentence E. It introduces to us what social media is and how individuals use it.

Sentence A then immediately follows because it tells us how the world is changing and how the children are growing up surrounded by social media.

Keywords/phrases that link A to E:

“Social media” to “social networking sites”, “Interactive’ to “interaction”.

Now sentence C immediately follows as it explains to us whether this so much use of mobile and social networking sites have an effect on children.

Keywords/phrases that link C to A:

“Social networking” to “social networks”, “children” to “them”.

Sentence B immediately follows as it mentions that the effects are in two parts. Sentences D & F can't be the following sentence as they would come after sentence B. Sentences D and F explain the positive and negative impacts of social media.

Keywords/phrases that link B to C:

“Impacts” to “effects”, “social networks” to “Social networking”.

Now, sentence F would come before sentence D because sentence D begins with the conjunction ‘while’. Hence, it gives us a clue that sentence D would come in the last.

Keywords/phrases that link F to B:

“Social networking” to “social networks”

Now sentence D is the last sentence as it tells us the negative side of social networking

The final sequence of the sentences is E – A – C – B– F– D.

Answers :

1. We can observe from the final sentences rearrangement which is E – A – C – B – F– D that third sentence is C.

Option B is the hence the correct answer.

2. We can observe from the final sentences rearrangement which is E – A – C – B – F– D that last sentence is D.

Option C is the hence the correct answer.

3. We can observe from the final sentences rearrangement which is E – A – C – B – F– D that first sentence is E.

Option E is the hence the correct answer.

4. We can observe from the final sentences rearrangement which is E – A – C – B – F– D that fifth sentence is F.

Option B is the hence the correct answer.

5. We can observe from the final sentences rearrangement which is E – A – C – B – F– D that second sentence is A.

Option D is the hence the correct answer.
