Correct Answers:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
C	E	B	D	A	B	A	B	D	C

Explanations:

1. The statement is regarding the financial goals of a person and also the way in which you should handle your finances based on your goals in life. It is regarding aligning your investments with your goals. Short term goals require fixed income products whereas long term goals can be fulfilled with market related products. If we replace 1 and 4, the sentence will become meaningful. No other replacement is required in the sentence to make it meaningful.

The correct sentence would be:

If you had a short-term goal, then you need a fixed-income product, not a market-linked product; to provide return predictability.

This makes Option C the correct choice among the given options.

2. The sentence is correct in the present form and no replacement is required in the present statement in order to make it correct.

This makes Option E the correct choice among the given options.

3. According to the context of the given statement it is regarding the fact that the person moved away but the other person kept on hurling abuses. Thankfully the auto had arrived by then and this person could leave in that without further inconvenience. If we replace 1-2, it will become correct but then the later part is not making sense at all. For that we again have to replace 3-4 and then only we can see that we have got a grammatically correct sentence that has some meaning as well.

The correct sentence would be:

He continued to create a scene even as I moved away and got into my auto that had thankfully arrived by then.

This makes Option B the correct choice among the given options.

4. The given statement is regarding the new law on the road safety and motor vehicles norms in the country. It talks about various important issues but there is no reference to the importance of better roads and infrastructure development. Now if we replace 1-3, the sentence will make sense and no further replacement will be necessary at all.

The correct sentence would be:

While the Bill does point out issues of road safety, much-needed heftier fines for errant drivers, vehicle recall norms, there's no mention of better roads or infrastructure development.

This makes Option D the correct choice among the given options.

5. According to the given statement, it is regarding the importance of gender-responsive urban transport plans in the country so that the cities in India become completely inclusive for all the genders. It is going to point at a developed Indian society where it becomes possible for all the genders to go from one place to the other easily and without any kind of discrimination. Now if we replace 1-4, the sentence will make sense and no other change is required to be carried out in this aspect.

This makes Option A the correct choice among the given options.

6. The usage of 'varying' and 'coalesce' is erroneous. Their usage would be correct if they are interchanged.

Similarly, the usage of 'openness' and 'traits' is also erroneous. Their usage would be correct if they are interchanged.

Over the last 25 years, psychologists have found that personalities coalesce around five basic traits, dubbed the Big Five; everyone can be described as having varying levels of agreeableness, conscientiousness, neuroticism, extroversion and openness to experience.

Hence, option B is the correct answer.

7. The usage of 'retribution' and 'civilised' is erroneous. Their usage would be correct if they are interchanged.

Similarly, the usage of 'rehabilitation' and 'deterrence' is also erroneous. Their usage would be correct if they are interchanged.

Justice in any civilised society is not just about retribution, but also about deterrence, and in less serious crimes, rehabilitation of the offenders.

Hence, option A is the correct answer.

8. The usage of 'consciousness' and 'possibly' is erroneous. Their usage would be correct if they are interchanged.

Similarly, the usage of 'remains' and 'altered' is also erroneous. Their usage would be correct if they are interchanged.

Some 1,600 years ago, ancient Romans would have worshipped the god Mithras, possibly in an altered state of consciousness, within the "Mithraeum of Colored Marbles," said archaeologists who found the remains of this temple in Ostia, Italy.

Hence, option B is the correct answer.

9. The usage of 'textured' and 'beneath' is erroneous. Their usage would be correct if they are interchanged.

Beneath the ice pack of the Antarctic, there's an ancient continent, as textured as any other, and that texture turns out to be very important for predicting how and when ice will flow and which regions of ice are most vulnerable in a warming world.

The usage of the rest of the words is absolutely correct.

Hence, option D is the correct answer.

10. The usage of 'pulling' and 'probe' is erroneous. Their usage would be correct if they are interchanged.

NASA's Juno probe recently discovered a giant new storm swirling near Jupiter's south pole, a few weeks after pulling off a dramatic death-dodging maneuver.

The usage of the rest of the words is absolutely correct.

Hence, option C is the correct answer.
